This guide is a must for both visitors and residents who want to enjoy the wide range of recreational opportunities offered here. Connecticut measures 90 miles east to west, 75 miles north to south, with the Connecticut River cutting the state in half. It is rolling and hilly and ever changing. It is tiny, to say the least, but this wonderful state offers some of the best kept parks and forests anywhere and will not disappoint you. Some of the parks are small, but they offer sanctuary for birds and wildlife - and even city-dwelling urban dwellers. Alpington State Forest, Cockenpoch State Forest, Edward Stieven Memorial Wildlife Refuge, Honatatico Meadows State Park, Macedonia Brook State Park, Rocky Neck State Park, Salmon River State Forest, Salt Meadow National Wildlife Refuge - these are just a few of close to 40 state parks and forests described in this guide. Then there are the historic sites, from Weir Farm National Historic Site to the Yale University Art Gallery, Fielding Griswold Museum to the Connecticut Impressionist Art Trail. This guide will help you find the perfect place for a weekend getaway, active family outing, quiet wilderness retreat - almost any type of outdoor experience you desire. Included are nature trails, scenic drives, historic sites, location maps, hiking tips and all the contact information you need.

This guide offers a concise text, the reader finds the essentials in fly fishing gear, stream tactics, casting, and a host of related topics. In addition, would-be anglers gain a useful glimpse into the history of fishing in Connecticut, the plus important tips on stream conservation, fly fishing etiquette, regulations, and safety. Most importantly, anglers will find a veritable road map to Connecticut's best trout streams and rivers. The book even offers excellent suggestions for comfortable lodging in prime fly fishing locations and - once the day's fishing is done - a few mouth-watering recipes for cooking one's catch. The Old Leather Man - Dan W. Deluca - 2009-03-01

In 1883, wearing a sixty-pound suit sewn from leather boot-tops, a wanderer known only as the Leather Man began to walk a 365 mile loop between the Connecticut and Hudson Rivers that he would complete every 34 days, for almost six years. His circuit took him through at least 41 towns in southwestern Connecticut and southeastern New York, sleeping in caves, accepting food from townspeople, and speaking only in grunts and gestures along the way. What remains of the mysterious Leather Man today are the newspaper clippings and photographs taken by the first-hand witnesses of this captivating individual. The Old Leather Man gathers the best of the early newspaper accounts of the Leather Man, and includes maps of his route, historic photographs of his shelters, the houses he was known to stop at along his way, and eyewitness accounts of the Leather Man and unravels the myths surrounding the man who made Connecticut's caves his home.

Creating Connecticut - Walter W. Woodward - 2020-05-01

Connecticut State Historian Walter Woodward helps us understand how people and events in Connecticut's past shaped crucial roles in forming the culture and character of Connecticut today. Woodward, a gifted storyteller, brings the history we thought we knew to life in new ways, from the newly-forgotten early presence of the Dutch, to the time when Connecticut was New England's foremost producer of witches, the decades when Connecticut was rapidly losing the state, and the years when Irish immigrants were hurrying into it. Whether he's his investigation into the unusually rough justice meted out to Revolutionary War hero Nathan Hale, or a peek into Mark Twain's smoking habits, Creating Connecticut will leave you thinking about our state's past—and its future—in a whole new way.
